

- Daily Dabba

Home-cooked tiffin, delivered hot.

For people in Bengaluru living away from home. You pick every meal. We cook fresh that morning. Skip any day you like.

Ghar ka khana, har single day.

THE PROBLEM

People who move to Bengaluru eat lunch out every single day.

- Restaurant and app food turns oily, repetitive, and pricey over a month.
- They miss simple home food, and have no time to cook.
- Old tiffin services lock you into a fixed menu and a full month paid up front, with no way to skip the days you travel.

Picture a 24 year old in a PG, far from family, tired of food apps by week two.

THE SOLUTION

A daily tiffin you actually control.

- Pick the exact meals and days you want, veg or non veg.
- We cook fresh that morning and deliver it hot.
- Skip any day, pause anytime, no lock in.

Home food, your choice, every day.

HOW IT WORKS

Four taps from hungry to fed.

01

Browse

Open the app and see this week's fresh menu.

02

Pick

Choose your meals and days, veg or non veg.

03

Order

Confirm in a tap and pay in the app.

04

Eat

Cooked that morning, hot in a steel dabba.

The app and website are live today. A printed brochure brings in people who sign up offline.

HOW BIG

Millions eating lunch out, every working day.

$85B

India's food service market in 2025

Home-style tiffin is one of its fastest growing parts, up 20 to 25 percent a year.

1M+

Tech workers in Bengaluru

And about half the city has moved here from somewhere else.

Start

A few neighbourhoods first

Win them, then spread one area at a time.

TRACTION

Small numbers. Strong pull.

HOW THE MONEY WORKS

We earn on every dabba.

One dabba sells for ₹100

Ingredients, packing, delivery

₹60

You keep

₹40

That is 40 paise of every rupee, healthy for home food. One monthly customer takes about 22 lunches, roughly ₹2,200 a month from one person, with about ₹880 left after costs. A sign-up is steady, repeating money, not a one-time sale.

TEAM

Meera Rao, founder.

I moved to Bengaluru for my first job and lived on food apps for two years. I spent too much, felt worse, and missed my mother's simple cooking every single day.

THE KITCHEN

My mother

Has run a small lunch mess back home for fifteen years.
She owns the cooking and the taste.

THE BUSINESS

Me

I own the app, the customers, and the delivery. This is the problem I lived and the food I grew up on.

THE ASK

What I need next.

- 01 My first 100 paying subscribers in my starting area.
- 02 A mentor who has run a food kitchen or a delivery operation.
- 03 Working capital of ₹10 lakhs for ingredients, steel dabbas, and a second cook.
