

P A L L U

Wear a weave with a story.

A handloom saree house. Choose the weave, choose the drape, get a blouse tailored to you, with a price you can read line by line.

THE PROBLEM

Buying a handloom saree is full of doubt.

It is a beloved, everyday purchase, and one of the least transparent.

IS IT REAL?

Handloom or powerloom?

Shops routinely sell machine-made sarees as handloom. Most buyers cannot tell, and have no way to check.

FAIR PRICE?

Pricing is a mystery

The same saree carries wildly different prices, with no idea how much is weave, how much is markup, or what reaches the weaver.

WILL IT FIT?

The blouse never fits

You buy the saree, then chase a tailor for the blouse, and hope it fits. Often it does not.

THE SOLUTION

A handloom saree house, built around you.

Pallu turns an anxious purchase into a clear, personal one.

YOU CHOOSE

Weave, drape, blouse

Pick the weave, pick the drape, and order a made-to-measure blouse, all in one place.

OPEN PRICE

Nothing hidden

Saree, drape, stitching and tax, each on its own line, with a fair share shown to the weaver.

REAL HANDLOOM

Named and sourced

Every saree names its weave and region, bought direct from the cluster. No powerloom in disguise.

HOW IT WORKS

From the loom to your wardrobe, in four steps.

01

Choose the weave

Cotton, silk, linen or Chanderi, each with its region and full price.

02

Choose the drape

Classic, Bengali or a modern pre-stitched drape.

03

Send measurements

A simple guide captures your blouse measurements.

04

We stitch and ship

A made-to-measure blouse, with a free first alteration.

THE MARKET

A huge, beloved, still unorganised market.

$6B

India saree market in 2025, growing toward about $10B by 2034.

~9%

a year, the growth of handloom sarees, reaching about $7B globally by 2032.

Mostly

unorganised. Trust, authenticity and fair pricing are wide open.

Sources: IMARC and Financial Express (saree market), Fortune Business Insights (handloom). Cotton leads, and transparency and fair weaver pay are rising buyer demands.

THE MODEL

Buy direct, price openly, fit perfectly.

How it earns

- Direct from weavers cutting middlemen means fair pay and a healthy margin.
- Blouse tailoring adds real value and a reason to come back.
- Occasion and repeat festivals, work and gifting drive steady reorders.

Why it sticks

- Trust compounds a saree that was real, and a blouse that fit, brings her back.
- Transparency travels an open price is the most shared thing in a saree group.
- Made to measure once we have her measurements, the next order is effortless.

Illustrative model for a student build, not audited results.

TRACTION

Early trust, woven one saree at a time.

40

sarees sold, each with its weave named and its full price shown.

9 of 10

blouses fit on the first try, the rest altered free.

~₹4.3k

average order, saree plus drape plus a tailored blouse.

Illustrative early traction for a student pilot, to show the model.

WHY NOW

Handloom is having a moment.

Why now

- Handloom revival younger buyers want real, sustainable, traceable weaves.
- Sarees are back working women in metros are draping more, not less.
- Online ethnic wear is growing fast, and buyers now expect transparency.

Where Pallu wins

- vs the local shop named handloom and an open price, not powerloom and guesswork.
- vs big saree brands you also choose the drape and get a blouse that actually fits.

THE ASK

Help us put the weaver back in the picture.

100

founding customers for real, transparently priced handloom.

A cluster

one weaving cluster partner and one trusted tailor.

Capital

working capital for a small, honest starter range.

Wear a weave with a story.